

Open Call Icarus Award 2019

Are art and technology center to your work?
Submit it now!

ICARUS AWARD

The Icarus Award will be awarded for the fifth year in a row during the annual conference of ECP | Platform for the Information Society. This year's theme is: The future of the information society.

Do you contribute to shaping our digital society with your artistic practice? Are you critical towards technology, or do you encourage technology like the futurists in 1909? Submit your work for a chance to win the Icarus Award 2019! The award aims to stimulate young artists/designers/makers who create a link between art and technology. And artists who put emphasis on the fine line between technology and ethics. The Icarus Award is a collaboration with Brave New World, the international conference on how future technology will impact human life.

SUBMIT BEFORE 1st SEPTEMBER

Submit your work before 1st September 2019. Send a brief description and images of your project, including a brief artist statement (preferably on video), to ellen.terbeek@ecp.nl. Please mention 'Submission Icarus Award 2019' in the subject line.

A professional jury will review your work. The top five will be exhibited in the Fokker Terminal in The Hague during the annual conference of ECP | Platform for the Information society on November 14th. Participants get the chance to win the Icarus Award, a sum of €1,000.

AWARD CEREMONY

The winner of the Icarus Award 2019 will be announced on November 14th at the annual conference of ECP. The prize is a sum of €1,000.

JAARCONGRES ECP

Further information on the annual conference of ECP and previous winners of the Icarus Award can be found at <https://ecp.nl/jaarcongres/>.